LOCAL WOMAN DIES IN CRASH
TULARE FARM—STRIKERS RIOT

GAEL TEAM BEATEN BY U.C. ELEVEN

Pacific football fans of the Pacific Coast settled down last night, wiped their brows and exclaimed "whoosh, whadda game!"

And well that they might, too. For yesterday's contest was a rip-roaring, line tearing, goal crossing, real dyed-in-the-wool football that kept approximately a million fans on the verge of hysteria throughout the afternoon.

The main game of the day, of course, was the St. Marys-California exhibition that sent 60,000 fans into an orgy of cheering and screaming.

California won this heart-breaking game by a score of 14 to 13 after Slip Madigan, Gael coach, had evidently decided that the contest was on ice when his team by a 13 to 0 score in the first quarter.

Down on the Farm, Tiny Thornhill's men took the Santa Clara team into camp by the score of 7 to 0. Grayson scored for the Stanford team in the first quarter. Although the Broncos tried their best, they were unable to push over to tie the score, or win.

At Los Angeles, USC upset the dope bucket by whipping Washington state by the score of 33 to 0.

The Olympic Club of San Francisco journeyed to Reno yesterday and took the measure of the lowly Nevada Wolves, 14 to 0.

In the north, Gonzaga and Oregon State fought to a 0 to 4 score during their game.

University of Oregon took the measure of Columbia, 14 to 7 in their game at Portland.

Further details of these games will be found on the sports page of this morning's RECORD-HERALD.

West Is

WEST IS—MAE WEST, whose "She Did Him Wrong" started new fashion and slang fads, is now at work on another film at Hollywood. A publishing firm which had the music rights to all of the tunes used in Mae's new film, declined the honor, declaring that some of her songs were naughty, to say the least.

WILL EXPEL
COTTON MEN
AGITATORS

TULARE, Oct. 7. Sheriff Bob Hill and a squad of deputies raced to Woodville near here late last night when first violence in the San Joaquin valley cotton field strike was reported.

John Nelson, rancher, sustained a broken arm and other injuries when struck with a chair assertedly wielded by a striking cotton picker.

An unidentified farmer was undeterred to have been hit over the head with a chair and injured.

According to reports reaching the office at Visalia the farmers were hurt in a melee at Woodville when they fought with strikers at an impromptu mass meeting of 500 pickers and strikers.

Authorities estimated more than 10,000 pickers in the valley have gone on general strike, demanding $1 per hundredweight for cotton picking.

Farmers maintain they are unable to pay more than the present 60 cent scale.

Declaring their regular pickers desired to work but have been intimidated by agitators, the farmers have banded together in a group of "minute men" to work as a unit in expelling the agitators, officials said.

RAY L. WILBUR, president of Stanford, announced this week that former President Herbert Hoover would not be named as president of Stanford.

HURTS ARE FATAL FOR
MRS. ODELL

Mrs. Ollie Odell, 2900 Barrett avenue, well known Richmond woman, suffered injuries in an automobile accident near Avon last night that resulted shortly after in her death.

Mrs. Odell died at a Martinez hospital where she was taken for treatment of injuries.

Death, according to physicians at the Martinez hospital, was probably due to fractured ribs that penetrated the woman's lungs.

According to Deputy Sheriff George Henderson, who investigated the accident, the crash occurred on the overhead crossing over the Southern Pacific railroad track, about three miles east of Martinez.

Two Cars Side Swipe
Mrs. Odell was riding in a machine driven by her son-in-law, Derry W. Waldrop, 2900 Barrett avenue. With them was Mrs. Odell's daughter, Mrs. Waldrop. They were returning from Avon where they had visited friends.

As the car made the "S" turn on the overhanging crossing, it sideswiped with a machine driven by Hedley Brays of El Cerrito. Brays was driving toward Avon.

Sitting in Back Seat
Mrs. Odell, who was sitting in the rear seat of the machine, was thrown violently against the back of the front seat, striking her chest.

None of the other occupants of either car were injured.

Both machines were stopped and drivers exchanged their names and addresses. The damage was surveyed and was found to be very slight.

Dies at Hospital
The drivers continued on their way. Mrs. Odell suddenly started to complain of pains in her chest. It was then decided to take her to the Martinez hospital for examination and treatment.

Dave Lamson
Enters Death
Cell "Home"

SAN QUENTIN, Oct. 7.—UP—Lodged in Death Cell No. 25, awaiting hanging December 15, for the murder of his wife, David A. Lamson rapidly adjusted himself today to the routine of life in the prison.

For two hours of the 24 each day, he is allowed to exercise outside his cell, to drink in the fresh air and sunshine, to see his fellow prisoners. During the other 22 he and seven others are isolated in the "condemned row" of the "big house."

Prison routine quickly changed the prisoner's well-groomed appearance. He lost most of his black wavy hair. His well-fitting tweed suit was exchanged for the uniform garb of his fellow convicts. His personal belongings were taken from him, except for a picture of his slain wife and his infant daughter and his wife's wedding ring.

Scouts End Merit Badge Show In City
The Boy Scout Merit Badge exhibit at the Odd Fellows hall ended last night in a blaze of glory. All who attended pronounced the affair as one of the most successful ever given here.

To Dr. A. B. Hinkley, chairman, and to the committee in charge, much praise was handed by Scout officials and spectators. Scouters declared that the exhibit gave Richmond a great opportunity to see just what the Scouts are accomplishing.

Yesterday afternoon the exhibit was opened with a parade down Macdonald avenue to the Odd Fellows hall. Boy Scouts and their band participated in the affair.

Last evening music for the show was presented by the Scout band. As a result of the show, Scout officials believe a greater interest will be taken in scouting.

Office Aids
County Vets

OAKLAND, Oct. 7.—A branch office to care for war veterans in Contra Costa and Alameda counties will be open here soon, according to a decision made today by the Veterans Welfare Board.

At the same time the board voted to open a branch in Fresno to serve San Joaquin valley ranchers.

"These two branch offices in Oakland and Fresno will involve no additional expense," said J. P. Brennan, resident of the town, "inasmuch as there will be a big saving in the traveling expenses of our field men."

"The need for the Oakland branch has been manifest, and for some time one of the board's agents has been handling the East Bay business twice a week at night. We have 2400 loans in Alameda county, and property involves investment of more than $11,000."

Byron Chickens Join Nudist Cult
BYRON, Oct. 7.—The first nudist colony in central California had its appearance here today with a membership of 40, at the ranch of Henry Martin.

Creation of the colony was the result of a slight error on the part of Martin when he dipped his chickens in what he thought was a solution for removing ticks. Instead he dipped them in paint remover. The flock emerged from the bath in an embarrassing state, being entirely nude of feathers.

Two Men Die
In Blaze As

His companion, believed to have been a passenger in the truck crash with him, remained unidentified.

Dajon was unable to extricate either of the trapped men from the flaming truck.

Read Is Held
By Police On Check Charge

OAKLAND, Oct. 7.—Troubles were added to Alfred Read Jr., of Chairo Windsor's $75,000 heart balm fame, today, when he was arrested by Oakland police on a bad check warrant issued by San Francisco authorities.

It seems that during the still-not-forgotten bank holiday Read had to make a hurry trip down to Hollywood and gave the manager of the Varney Speed Lines a check to cover airplane transportation. The manager was given instruction not to try to cash the check until told it was O.K. The company, impatient, disregarding Read's instructions and the check bounced back. Now they want the money—or else.

Berkeley Boy Saves Youth On S. F. Bay

BERKELEY, Oct. 7.—UP—A junior high school boy turned back in to choppy San Francisco bay today to rescue an older companion after their canoe overturned.

Henry Medeiros 14, and Franklin Gimbel, 16, borrowed the home-made canoe for a cruise. Waves upset the frail craft. For a time the youths held onto the canoe, then decided to swim to shore, 200 yards away.

The younger boy swam ahead and was close to shore when he heard Gimbel yell. "I can't make it, you'd better go on," the older boy cried.

New Cancer Cure To Be Given Tests

BERKELEY, Oct. 7.—UP—Application to human beings of a cancer treatment reportedly found effective on rats was the next step planned today by two University of California experimenters, Prof. E. S. Sundstrom and George Gragossintz.

The scientists induced cancer in the rats by applying tar, radium or ultra-violet rays, then placed the victims in large tanks.

Air pressure in the tanks was reduced until it corresponded to the pressure at an altitude of four miles, Sundstrom said.

The treatment overcame within four weeks "even the most malignant and rapidly growing cancers," he said.

With his father to pace him, Billy swam the straits and walked out on the beach at Glen Cove ready for more exercise.

Just to keep one notch ahead of his son, the elder Bartlett stayed in the water and swam back to Crockett.

STANFORD IN VICTORY OVER SANTA CLARAS

PALO ALTO, Oct. 7.—UP—An alert and versatile Stanford team stopped every threat of those excellent players from Santa Clara university today and won a thrilling football game 7 to 0.

Stanford—revealed a powerful line that forced the Santa Claras to resort to an aerial game in the second quarter and keep at it throughout the remainder of the contest.

Twice Santa Clara penetrated beyond the Stanford ten-yard line. In the second quarter they reached the one-yard line, but made the error of attempting to break through the formidable Stanford wall. In the fourth quarter the Broncos passed down to the seven-yard line, but a fourth down pass into the end zone was incomplete.

Stanford was led to the only touchdown of the game by Bobby Grayson, sophomore fullback who carried the ball over in the first period after he and Bob Macnia had punched the Santa Clara line into reluctant submission.

SEVEN EVENTS AT SAN JOSE AUTO RACES

SAN JOSE, Oct. 7.—Seven auto-racing events together with a demonstration of how to properly crash through a wooden wall at 70 miles an hour on a motorcycle will complete the thrill program scheduled on the San Jose Speedway tomorrow afternoon beginning at noon.

James L. Washburn—"Daredevil"—Washburn they call him—will be the young man astride the cycle and it's no flimsy wall he's built for himself either—the boards are some thing like half an inch thick and to all intents and purposes they look plenty solid.

The racing program includes time trials, a 2-lap dash for the two fastest qualifying cars, a 5-lap match race between L.S. Dreisbach of Berkeley and Al Chastean of Oakland, three 5-lap sprints, a 30-lap main event and a 10-lap consolation race—sixty-two laps of racing in all. With the time trials getting under way at noon, the 2-lap dash will be started at two o'clock. It was announced today by Lynn Mathewson, manager of the speedway.

Much interest has been aroused since the announcement that Jack McNamara, formerly of Stanford and a red-headed youngster with plenty of nerve, is out to show a flock of more experienced pilots how to flirt with the guard rails and still stay in the running. McNamara, whose home is in San Francisco, is said to be a steel-nerved gentleman who has more than his share of the world's goods. As a matter of fact, reports have it he took up auto racing because he realized that sports as pole and golf as being too "fame."

By in Ralph Greer, "Herk" Edwards and several of the other boys he'll have his hands full when it comes to competition. Nevertheless, he figures that he'll get out in front just as quickly as possible and if they want to pass him they'll have to overtake him first—always a tough job on a five-eighths of a mile oval like San Jose.

Included in the list of entries are Edwards, Greer, McNamara, Dreisbach, Chastean, Fred Lyons, "Shorty" Holmes, Tom Henry, Bill Johnson of Madera, Hal Logan of Fresno, Joe Rand, Jessie Rueter, Dick Loveland, Johnny Locceroco, Tip Bloom, and, cost their club the game, R. Bartello and Joe Reese. The latter series finished with enough four are car owners and will blazing thrills to last a full half-hour, their pilots tomorrow morning.

Nevadans Beaten By Olympic Club

RENO, Nev., Oct. 7.—UP—The San Francisco Olympic Club football team was too heavy and powerful for Nevada University today, and the Winger O's downed the Nevadans 14 to 0 in a one-sided game.

Included in the list of entries are Edwards, Greer, McNamara, Dreisbach, Chastean, Fred Lyons, "Shorty" Holmes, Tom Henry, Bill Johnson of Madera, Hal Logan of Fresno, Joe Rand, Jessie Rueter, Dick Loveland, Johnny Locceroco, Tip Bloom, and, cost their club the game, R. Bartello and Joe Reese. The latter series finished with enough four are car owners and will blazing thrills to last a full half-hour, their pilots tomorrow morning.

GIANTS TEAM TAKES SERIES IN FIFTH GAME

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—UP—Better pitching, snappier play, harder hitting and the breaks today gave New York's Giants their first world's baseball championship in 11 years. The National League team won the series 4 to 1.

The Senators had no pitching to compare with that of Carl Hubbell, brilliant screwball artist from Oklahoma. They had no player always making the old college try in the manner of Blondy Ryan, an amazing youngster at short for New York. Not only did a Senator bat as did Mel Ott, Giants' right fielder, nor did the Nats ever come through with concerted hitting as did the new champions in the second contest. Because of all these items the Giants seemed to have earned their victories. But in addition they must be credited with the breaks. Most of these came in yesterday's fourth game and centered

ABOVE ARE some of the stars of the St. Mary's eleven who played yesterday in the game against California, that resulted in a 14 to 13 victory for the Golden Bears.

GOLDEN BEARS DEFEAT GAELS BY ONE POINT

BERKELEY, Oct. 7.—UP—An aroused University of California football team defeated the mighty Gaels of St. Mary's 14 to 13 here this afternoon.

It was a 177 pound sophomore halfback, Floyd Blower of Santa Ana, Cal., who turned apparent defeat into victory in the closing minutes of the savage game.

St. Mary's held a 13-7 lead late in the final quarter. An exchange of punts pushed St. Mary's back to its own 16. Fleeing dropped back to punt out of danger, Lutz and C. Williams broke through and blocked the kick. The ball bounced crazily out of bounds on St. Mary's 15 yard line.

An end-around play gained only two. Blower took the ball on a reverse from Keefe. He fought and wormed his way up to and across the goal, and fell across the line with the arms of a St. Mary's defender around him. That tied the score.

Then Floyd sent a kick from placement straight through the goal posts for the added point that meant victory.

St. Mary's scored in the first two minutes of play and a few minutes later pushed over a touchdown that resulted from a blocked punt.

Grid Results

California 14, St. Mary's 13.

Race Of Champs On Monday Night

Tomorrow night War Cry will meet all comers in the northern California championship. Trainer William Baker announces that War Cry is in good shape after tearing a ligament in the hind hock following the Baden championship.

Unquestionably the smartest race yet run at El Cerrito was that of Sunny Sam on Saturday night, winning the sixth event. Spotted at No. 1 hole, Sunny Sam picked his spots and ran as though guided by a pockey. He paid only $3.20 to win but was a stand-out.

Runt Actor, dropped in class, showed them something by bidding Sparkie and Clara C. on Saturday night for a payoff of $21.40. Runt Actor ran from No. 1 hole and is supposed to be an outside runner.

P I Independence Bill Fight Looms

MANILA, P. I., Oct. 7.—UP—Supporters of the Hare-Hawes-Cutting Philippine independence act planned new strategy today to bring the measure before the people despite its virtual repudiation by the insular senate.

TROJANS TAKE COUGARS 33-0 IN CLEAN-UP

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—UP—Little Irvine Warburton, known as "Cotton" because of his thatch of white hair, today sparked the powerful University of Southern California team to its 24th consecutive victory, a 33 to 0 slaughter of Washington State.

The 150-pound quarterback turned in two magnificent runs for touchdowns—the first 80 yards and the second 75 yards—to start the Trojan machine and turn to a rout what had been a good football contest.

Cotton's first dash came with his initial handling of the ball as he entered the game in the second quarter.

Until that moment the eleven were battling on fairly even terms and neither had scored. With the 80-yard run to touchdown the tide immediately turned to favor Southern California and Warburton's second excursion through the Staters completely broke the Cougars' resistance.

Although Warburton was the main show for Southern California, Haskell Workins, Bill Howard and Homer Griffith did a lot of effective ball carrying. Griffith, first string quarterback, once ran 89 yards to the goal line but he was called back when officials detected a Trojan in the act of clipping.

KELLY, WIFE HEARING TO BE OPENED

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 7.—UP—George P. (Machine Gun) Kelly and his auburn haired wife, Katherine, will go on trial Monday on charges in the kidnaping of Chas. F. Urschel for which four other defendants today were sentenced to life imprisonment—the extreme penalty under the new Lindbergh law.

The sudden about-face by the Kelleys came as Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaughn again upheld the law under which the Harvey-Bailey gang was convicted. Kelly and his wife had announced they would plead guilty.

The judge said he wanted to emphasize his attitude toward kidnaping as he sentenced Bailey. (The most dangerous criminal in the nation) Albert Bates, Denver gangster; R. G. (Boss) Shannon and his wife, Ora, Texas farm couple, to prison for life. They were convicted a week ago.

Armon Shannon, 21, was given a suspended sentence of 10 years, and Edward Berman and Clifford Skelly of St. Paul "money changers" each was sentenced to five years in prison.

The government struck another blow at the underworld today at Dallas, Tex. Tom Manion, discharged county jailer, was sentenced to two years in prison and fined $10,000 for aiding Bailey in escaping jail there Labor Day. Grover Bevil pleaded guilty to the charge and was given a 14-month prison term.

The scene at Oklahoma City was unusual. The courtroom was filled. Additional seats were placed in aisles. Leaders of the bar and bench crammed the jury box. Society folk, friends of the millionaire kidnaping victim, were present. Mrs. Urschel was at her husband's side.

Manning machine guns, federal agents guarded the doors as they did throughout the trial. A battery of lights and motion picture machines swept the room as the scene was preserved—a graphic record of the government's recovery.

Golf League To Elect Officers

The fall meeting of the Contra Costa Industrial Golf League will be held at the clubhouse of the Contra Costa Golf club on Wednesday, October 11, at 8 p. m. for the purpose of electing officers for 1934 and also for making arrangements for the fall tournament, which tentatively is scheduled for October 29.

A tournament director for the latter tournament must be selected because of the resignation of G. W. Aljian, who has recently moved from Crockett.

TWENTY-SIX YEARS OF STANDARD SERVICE STATION GROWTH

They say that "Mighty oaks from little acorns grow," but little did executives at the Seattle plant of the Standard Oil Company of California think that the first gasoline service station in the country, and probably the first in the world, would develop into the modern spotless structures which Standard Stations, Incorporated, has erected throughout the West. Upper left, the "daddy of them all," opened in the spring of 1907 in Seattle and, below, one of the newest Standard stations with modernistic lines, plate glass windows, hard surfaced driveways and the other latest accommodations. Upper left, this type of station so well known a few years before the war represents a great advance over 1907, but compared with those of today is very antiquated.

asked, "what do you think?" "Since you ask me, Mr. Secretary, I'll tell you frankly. At the Chicago convention I supported this man," Garner pointed to Roosevelt.

"And likewise," Garner concluded, "I think that no man connected with these interests should be in his cabinet."

SELF-CONFIDENCE

James H. Moyle, septuagenarian Commissioner of Customs from Salt Lake City, has ordered a big and comfortable couch moved into his office where he takes a gentle sleep every day after lunch.

When asked if he would not like to meet all the chiefs of division in the Bureau, he adroitly and rather wearily waved aside the suggestion.

"Oh I won't be here long enough for that. I am going over across the street (to the Treasury) as soon as there is a vacancy among the assistant secretaries."

HASHISH

Yesterday a representative of the State Department sailed for Europe to attend the next meeting of the Opium Advisory committee at Geneva.

Behind his trip is a new "dope" problem facing the world in general, and the United States in particular.

It is the problem of hashish, grown as a wild weed within sight of the Capitol Dome and within every state in the Union. In fact the United States grows more of it than any other country or area in the world.

Smoking hashish, a habit once confined to the Far East, is now spreading in this country. Cigarettes containing it are sold from five to twenty-five cents apiece. Those who know the weed can go out in almost any field and harvest the drug. In the South it is called loco weed. Horaces sometimes so mad from eating it, police authorities attribute many of the attacks on women to smoking hashish.

But although strict federal narcotic laws apply to opium and its derivatives, there is no federal law restricting the production and use of hashish. Thirty-one states have laws, but they are not uniform and in some cases must lax.

The big problem before the coming opium conference at Geneva, therefore, is going to be the regulation of hashish.

STRAINED RELATIONS

Settlement of Pennsylvania's latest coal labor war—the "captive mine" strike—was at a cost of some sharp straining of personal relations in the highest NRA circles.

Late in the afternoon on the day the bloody rioting occurred, Roosevelt summoned Donald Richberg, NRA general counsel, to Hyde Park. General Johnson was not consulted. At 11 p. m. the President happily announced that he had "settled" the strike by persuading the steel corporation owners of the captive mines to sign the bituminous coal code.

When told of Roosevelt's statement, President John L. Lewis, of the United Mine Workers, hit the ceiling. It was the first word he had of the President's intervention in the situation.

Lewis rushed to Johnson, still in the hospital, and poured out his indignation. He was provoked not only at not being consulted by Roosevelt, but because he felt the real issue which caused the strike was completely evaded. Lewis pointed out that bringing the steel corporation owned mines under the coal code meant nothing. The mines were working for recognition of their union, which the non-captive mine operators had agreed to, but which the steel magnates flatly refused to grant.

Privately, Johnson felt as strongly about the President's action as Lewis, but said nothing. Although it was then long past midnight, he called the President by long distance phone, frankly told him of the miners' attitude. The President authorized Johnson to try to straighten out the union's mind.

For the next twenty-four hours, Johnson was more out of bed than in. He turned the quiet hospital ward into a hectic conference room. In the end he brought the miners and steel operators together in a compromise settlement.

MAIL BAG

J. G. Boston, Mass.—General Hugh Johnson's ailment was nothing serious. An old fistula required attention and his doctors deemed it advisable to lance it. He worked every day while in bed, often far into the night. Miss X. Ft. Collins, Colo.—Senator Costigan's secretary, Miss Marguerite Owen, is one of the most brilliant young women in government service. J. J. S., San Mateo, Calif.—Contrary to popular opinion Senator Johnson can run next year on the Republican ticket. Although he bolted to the Democratic slate last year, California election laws permit a candidate to run on any ticket he desires if he registers his preference 30 days before filing his nomination papers. R. F. Sioux City, Iowa—Former Senator Brookhart is in the foreign market's division of the Department of Agriculture and spends most of his time studying possible markets for American farm products.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

By MRS. CARL W. LONGACRE
WILL YOU GIVE YOUR BOY?

In the near future, as predicted by many, a large manufacturing plant is soon to be established. The raw material for these huge manufacturing mills is to be supplied by the homes of our country.

Peas will be needed to carry on this huge enterprise. It is conservatively estimated that at least ONE boy from every FIFTY family will be used in the mill.

What kind of a manufacturing mill is it you ask that needs my boy?

The answer, ladies, for this first time, is a great mill, that uses so many, many boys and girls when I tell you that it is the Gin, or Liqueur Mill that is soon to be opened, under government protection and the raw material needed for this mill is boys, the highest and most promising youth of our land.

The Finished Product
You ask what the finished product is, that is made of our boys? The finished product, mothers, of your bright eyed boys, will be machine, sleek, and drink, you say they can never have your son? Well, mothers, they do not ask your consent for in so many, enticing, seductive ways your boy will be stolen from you and you are aware of it.

Two Hundred Thousand Yearly!
Yes, the mill will use annually two hundred thousand boys, as raw material, later to be turned back to you "the finished product."

Again you say, No, no, no, and not hear me, but be placed in this respect, believe that his escape from death via the miracle of Divine providence.

Lodi Strike Is Believed Near Finish

While a strike of grape pickers at Lodi appeared collapsed last night state investigators moved into the Tulare region to seek adjustment of walkout of thousands of San Joaquin cotton field workers.

Lodi police reported all strike agitators had left the region except those under arrest. Reports that shots had been fired at several individuals were characterized as results of "jumpy nerves." A new employment agency, favoring "local unemployment" was organized.

Police of San Francisco and Oakland searched Sicilian districts for Gino Secco, a suspect in the slaying at Lodi of Matt Beronzo, ranch foreman.

Not a Locomotive Industry
You say perhaps, this gin mill has no right to run. It is not a locomotive industry, for it destroys our boys, socially, normally, and also too often eternally.

What is the motivating power that does this great evil? It is the worship of the Golden Calf. It is the love and greed of money.

Dollfuss Plans To Restore King

VIENNA, Oct. 7.—UP—Chancellor Engelbert Dollfuss, resumed

NOW is the time to make a Fall check-up on LIGHTING in YOUR HOME

How LONG has it been since you made a real check-up on the light in your home? Empty sockets need fresh new lamps. Burned-out lamps, lamp bulbs darkened with long use should be replaced with fresh new lamps. Nothing adds more to comfort in the after-dinner hours in the fall and winter as a cheerfully lighted home. Nothing is so decorative and yet so inexpensive as electric light. Check-up—light up, and give tired eyes a chance to see better. Light up for cheerfulness. Let light bring out the beauty of your living room by having at least one floor or table lamp that throws light upward to illuminate the whole room. This is the best lighting of all to read by, and adds to the hospitality your home expresses to your guests. See the better lamps of today now being displayed in stores everywhere and in all offices of this company. Then you will know why one of these lamps gives better light to see by than three or four lamps which merely look nice when lighted. Ask about the Special Purchase Terms now in effect.

in PARAMOUNT'S Supreme Triumph

EXTRAS: 5th Symphony, Technicolor, Cartoons, "Lullaby Land" News & Comedy

with BRIAN AHERNE • LIONEL ATWILL • ALISON SKIPWORTH

Directed by ROUBEN MAMOULIAN

Note: Marlene Dietrich's portrayal of "Lily" in "The Song of Songs" has created an event in the history of the motion picture industry. It is a bit as Mrs. W. C. Fields' characterization of "Lady Lou" in "The Big Girl" in 1926.

TODAY

...three men in her life... to each she yielded... this vibrant... alluring... woman of flesh and fire... yet only one man could fill her heart!

FILM CLASSIC PRESENTED AT FOX TODAY

A new Marlene Dietrich, more than her admirers have ever dreamed of in her previous pictures, will be seen in "The Song of Songs" which opens at the Fox theater today.

Miss Dietrich, who has appeared hitherto only as the sophisticated worldly woman, is revealed in her new production as an innocent young country girl, swayed by ideals and possessed of a great love. Then comes Berlin and the whole of his life, the sheltering of romance and again Marlene Dietrich, the woman used to the world, and running the gamut of tragic experience, beneath a defiant pose.

"Song of Songs" is one of the classics of literature. It is from the pen of Bernard Shamus, and has been translated into almost every civilized language in the world. The picture was directed by Rouben Mamoulian. This is the first Dietrich film which has not been directed by her discoverer, Josef Sternberg.

An outstanding cast of actors appears in support. Brian Aherne, referred to by drama critics as the "most romantic actor" on the New York stage, following his work as Katharine Cornell's leading man in "The Barretts of Wimpole Street" makes his screen debut as Miss Dietrich's leading man. In the cast are Lionel Atwill, Hardie Albright and Allison Skipworth.

"Central Airport" At Richmond Today

Heralded as the "Dawn Patrol" of 1933, Richard Barthelmess' newest picture "Central Airport" comes to the Richmond theater today and tomorrow for a limited engagement. The super air-thriller glorifies the flying heroes of peace... not war... and is said to exceed anything that the talented star has ever done.

The powerful story deals with the hazardous lives and the exciting loves of these hardy navigators of the stormy air-lines. Richard Barthelmess plays the part of a returned war hero who pilots transcontinental passenger planes. He crashes his ship with a heavy load of lives and is "grounded." Discredited in the same he loves and the only one he knows, he goes arm-storming with a traveling air crew, and falls in love with Sally Eilers.

Bob Howard and Phil Morse, California tennis players, go East for a series of tournaments. Phil, on a mad impulse, steals a valuable wrist watch belonging to Cliff Garrison, veteran tennis star. He gets rid of it, but it later turns up again in his locker after a tennis match. Frightened, he departs suddenly for California, leaving the watch for Bob to find. Cliff, who has been waiting for the watch, is surprised to find it in the New York apartment of a friend of Bob's who has attracted Cliff's interest. When Bob sees the watch on his piano, he lies, saying Cliff has given it to her.

CHAPTER XXI

DURING his long trip across the continent to California, after his sudden departure from Philadelphia, Phil Morse moodily reviewed the unhappy weeks he had spent in the East. What a mess he had made of things! And that accused jeweled watch! It, really, was what had started all his troubles. And then to have the thing turn up again, in his locker, after that last match with Garrison. Well, he was running away now from its baleful influence.

At last he was home. His mother welcomed him with open arms and, in her happiness, he almost forgot his worries. For a few days it was good to take things easy and lounge about the house. But at the end of a week he was invited to play in a tournament in Sacramento, and he found that he was again upon him. He packed his rackets and was off.

FROM the time he served his first ball in the tournament, he realized he was out to win. All the doubts and worries of his Eastern trip were gone. Swiftly he moved down his opponents, ending by winning the finals in straight sets. Telegrams of congratulation poured in, and invitations to play were sent him. Phil took it all with a cynical smile, knowing well how little anyone would have cared, had he lost.

But some of the telegrams really made him happy. Bob wired: "I knew you could do it." And he was proud to discover that Ruth Barclay had not forgotten him. But most of all he was pleased by a triumphant air letter from little Edward, who urged him to come back East and come up to camp to visit him.

The climax was reached in an offer from a motion picture company to play a small part in a sport picture. They guaranteed him five thousand dollars. When the agent finished talking, Phil shook his head.

"The money sounds good, but I am an amateur, you know."

"And what does that get you in the end?"

Phil pointed to the pile of congratulatory letters. "Isn't that enough?"

The agent smiled. "They don't buy any ham and eggs, but I guess you've got to be the judge."

LATER, when he told his mother about it, he was startled by her response.

"I'm glad you feel like that, Phil, but that money might have meant so much to you. It's a pretty hard squeeze, sometimes, just getting along."

He caught her hand quickly. "Mother, I'm so selfish—I never thought of you. Five thousand dollars would mean a lot to you, wouldn't it?"

"She sighed. "Never mind, son. You're right about it. I want you always to do as you think best. There now, let's not talk about it any more."

That night he tossed in his bed unable to go to sleep. Finally, he got up and sat by the open window, looking out into the starry night. His mind was in a turmoil, but through it all ran one clear train of thought. Ever since he had been able to swing a racket, he had loved tennis and it had meant everything to him. He had dreamed of becoming a real star and traveling about the country winning tournaments. It had

Peace Officer Is Killed By Mad Rancher

WINNEMUCIA, Nev., Oct. 7.—A posse today trapped and killed Glen Hibbs, 40, deranged ranch foreman, who earlier had slain Sheriff S. G. Lamb, one of the best known peace officers in the state. The sheriff was wounded fatally when he went to the Pinson ranch near here to arrest Hibbs. The officer died en route to a hospital. Hibbs fled into the brush. A posse closed in on him at Willows near the Humboldt river. When he refused to surrender, a valley directed into his hiding place killed him. Authorities said Hibbs had been brooding since his wife obtained a divorce several weeks ago. She obtained custody of their child. Sheriff Lamb was called when the separated couple quarreled and Hibbs allegedly threatened to kill his wife and child.

Mrs. Pardini On 100th Day Of Coma Here

Mrs. George Pardini, 44, of San Jose, passed her 100th day in the Richmond hospital yesterday in a condition of coma. Her husband, Dr. Samuel Eldridge, had her hopes for her recovery. Mrs. Pardini is still unaware of the automobile accident that resulted in her brain injury. The accident occurred near the Carmichael bridge. A suit for $100,000 was filed in the Martinez court by relatives of Mrs. Pardini against drivers of a truck concerned in the fatal crash. Suffering from what physicians call "brain bruise," Mrs. Pardini has been hovering between life and death, being fed by subcutaneous and intravenous feeding. More than a month ago she seemed to recognize relatives, but after a moment lapsed back into unconsciousness. The Pardini family resided at 1637 San Jose avenue.

He was arrested by Deputy Sheriff W. F. Wilson. No details of the case could be learned last night.
